

Galuaifi Lui, Pacific Cultural Liaison Coordinator

Who am I?

- I am a Samoan, mother of 7 children, grandmother of 12 grandkids
- I speak fluent Samoan and English and bits of other pacific languages
- I have 20 years' experience in the health sector; working in primary health as community support worker, administrator
- For the past 8 years I have been the Pacific Cultural Liaison Coordinator for the Waitemata DHB.
- I am a trained breastfeeding peer counsellor and facilitate the Titifaitama Antenatal Breast feeding group in West Auckland for our Pacific mums who are pregnant and those who want to know more about breast feeding.
- I am passionate about making a difference for my community.

What do I do?

- I help our pacific mothers navigate (find) their way through the DHB process during their pregnancy, birth of their baby and for 6 weeks after the birth of their baby.
- I can assist you with appointments, language and cultural needs.
- I can help you look for a midwife or if you wish to change your midwife
- I help the WDHB understand our pacific ways
- I help the WDHB link and engage with our pacific community.

How do work?

- I am here to support you Not to judge you
- Confidentiality is important in my role
- I respect all our Pacific cultures
- I am professional in what I do.
- I can come to you and meet where ever is comfortable for you
